

To whom it may concern:

K-LOVE is by far one of the most positive impacting forces of my day. It is often times through K-LOVE that I am given a reason to be a positive force and influence in the lives of hundreds of youth on a daily bases. K-LOVE reminds me to look at the hearts and needs of others and consider how I can further fulfill their needs. With heart felt conviction, I must say that to remove K-LOVE from the air or to even consider “watering down” or censoring its message would be doing a HUGE disservice to our listener communities. K-LOVE has its role as do local government and even crisis centers have their role in assuring the welfare of the people. This is the framework of their mission, to reach those who would otherwise see life as being hopeless and without purpose. Again, I can not emphasize the point enough that K-LOVE is a high-touch player in the role of positively encouraging and influencing its community in a big way. While K-LOVE does resound a somewhat faith based message, we must understand that we as community servers are in it together with the same purpose no matter the faith, creed, or religion. Our collective purpose is to make sure the citizenship of America is noted as the most responsible, genuine, caring, and heart felt collective community this world has ever seen or will ever experience.

Sincerely,

Christopher S. Graham
